BC: Um, I, I do think this is just pressure from politics.

MC: I think so too.

BC: This, this part of it, this part of it is, I think it's very safe to say, like it's always speculation what's pol- political and what's not; but this seems like 99.9% chance political, so. Yeah.

MC: Yeah, uh, a lot of it is, and that's sad. [unintelligible] like I said before, it's almost like a competition. And it shouldn't be a competition.

BC: No.

MC: You know?

BC: It shouldn't.

MC: [Unintelligible]

BC: And that's how it works. Everyone wants their own reputation to get better, and their side winning makes their own reputation better, so unfortunately...

MC: Apparently.

BC: ...people like me get caught in the crosshairs. Every defendant does.
